

About the Author

My wife, Mary Elizabeth Ellis, & myself happily live in a peaceful Amish area of northern Maine.

My major careers included teaching (Elementary & Junior High), Design & Construction (from furniture to buildings), Manager, and a Licensed Professional Engineer, (I still do some consulting work).

A few of my many interests include being an Independent Bible Researcher, Hebrew language student, Writer, & Publisher, with exploration into creation science, health, organic farming and homesteading. Learning & teaching are core passions.

Our Biblical teachings are free on our website, found at www.bibleconcepts.com, with its more recent writings reflective of new truths as we learn more.
